

Agilyx ASA Boilerplate

Agilyx ASA is a leading global investment platform supporting the development of plastic waste feedstock supply to the recycling industry. Through its 44% stake in GreenDot Global, Europe's largest waste plastic recycling platform, generating over EUR 400 million in annual revenues, Agilyx gains access to large volumes of post-use plastic and advanced sorting and recycling infrastructure in Germany, Austria and Italy, helping supply critical European-sourced feedstock to the European advanced recycling markets. Through Cyclyx, its (50%) joint venture with ExxonMobil (25%) and LyondellBasell (25%), Agilyx supports the collection and processing of post-use plastic waste into custom-formulated, high-quality feedstock solutions for global plastic producers. Agilyx markets Styrenyx, its proprietary advanced recycling technology, to recycle polystyrene waste into recycled styrene monomer for reuse in new, high-quality products. By enabling the shift from a linear "make-take-waste" model to a circular economy, Agilyx helps solve the crisis of plastic waste and supports the global transition to a low-carbon future.
