

Agilyx ASA Boilerplate

Agilyx ASA is a publicly listed, technology-agnostic leader in plastic recycling, focused on converting plastic waste into circular products and value-creating solutions for the global plastics value chain. The Company works with blue-chip partners and operates across mechanical recycling, advanced recycling, and proprietary technology development. Agilyx has operating exposure in Europe through its ownership stake in GreenDot, a leading platform for sourcing, processing, and supplying recycled plastic feedstock, and in the US through strategic commercial arrangements and technology deployment. With funded projects, reduced capital intensity and a clear strategic focus, Agilyx is positioned to drive sustainable growth and long-term value creation in the circular plastics economy.